

Rioni is a privately owned and operated luxury accessories company with roots that can be traced back to the late 1980's. A long heritage of leatherworking, together with passion for luxury, has fueled Rioni to quickly become a symbol of sophistication and class.

Throughout the decades, Rioni's artisans honed and refined the art of leatherworking, passing on secrets generation after generation. Today, Rioni has become synonymous with making some of the world's finest leather goods.

Quality and meticulous attention to details are among some of the more remarkable characteristics of Rioni. Often compared to an exquisite work of art, each piece is handmade to perfection, which in turn may take months to complete. A great deal of devotion, passion, and pride is placed into every process, bringing about a true masterpiece.

The Rioni design philosophy is comprised of timeless and classic designs with subtle yet notable modern-day appeal. Visually pleasing, clever, and ingenious designs are the main elements that go into designing one of Rioni's finest -- the Signature Collection.

Rioni uses some of the finest materials in the world. Thanks to the natural uniqueness of these materials, each piece develops character over time, creating a personalized experience.

Disclaimer: Exotic hides may require preventive maintenance to be kept at its prime.

Rioni applies crafting techniques that are superior to most industry standards. All person(s) who have knowledge of Rioni privileged or confidential information MUST sign or agree to a Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA). Rioni is a multi-national trademarked, registered, and copyrighted brand.